Rocky Mountain Methodology Academy
July 15-22, 2025
Calgary, Alberta, Canada

#rmma2025

Welcome!

Thank you for your decision to come to our annual Rocky Mountain Methodology Academy in Calgary!

As you know, science is an inherently collaborative and social process, yet it hasn't always felt that way over the last few years. Many of the organizations that used to offer in-person training in data analysis and research design switched to online instruction during the pandemic and decided, for various reasons, not to return to face-to-face learning. And several new online-only vendors have popped up recently as well. We are bucking that trend here at the Canadian Centre for Research Analysis and Methods by recognizing that there simply is no substitute for the excitement and opportunities that come from learning in a physical classroom surrounded by burgeoning and veteran scientists interacting in real time and in high definition with expert instructors in their disciplines.

Whether you are in town for just a few days or a couple of weeks, you will find each day intellectually stimulating and demanding, and you will return to your accommodation filled with new knowledge and with deeper social connections than when you started the day. And we hope that after class and between sessions, you get out and experience some of what Calgary has to offer, including its culture, culinary scene, and some amazing views. But as you explore, you will recognize that there is just so much here, and you'll never see all there is to see and do all that there is to do. You'll have to come back, and we hope you do. Indeed, to those of you who are here this year who came last year too, we are confident your experience this year will be as good or better than before.

I believe you will find that the trust you placed in us to spend your time and research resources here in Calgary was well placed and that you will want to spread the word to your colleagues, students, and friends to give us a try next time they seek an academic and social experience in a vibrant metropolitan city recognized as one of the top destinations and places to live and work in the world. We are excited you are here and hope to see you or your friends and colleagues again in July 2026.

classrooms

The University of Calgary is in the Northwest quadrant of Calgary at the intersection of 24th avenue NW and Crowchild Trail. The university address is 2500 University Drive NW, but this is not the physical location of the business school on campus. The Haskayne School of Business is in Scurfield and Mathison Halls at the intersection of Campus Gate NW and Campus Drive NW in the southeast corner of campus.

If you are driving to campus, pay parking is available for $9 per day in Lot 32, across from Scurfield Hall/Mathison Hall. You will find an interactive map at <https://ucalgary.ca/about/our-campuses/campus-maps-and-room-finder>

If you are staying in Kensington or downtown, Calgary's light rail train (CTrain) stops at the University station. The University station is on the red line. Take the train headed to Tuscany. When arriving at the University station, turn left when leaving the station building to get to campus, and it is only a brief walk to the Haskayne School of Business from the station. There is a large campus map to guide you once you arrive on campus from the train station.

If you are staying in the University District at the Alt Hotel or on campus, you can walk. The Haskayne School of Business is about a 20-minute walk from the Alt hotel and just a few minutes from on-campus housing at International House.

If you are staying in one of the hotels in the Banff Trail area, you can walk to campus or take the CTrain from the Banff Trail station one stop northwest to the University station. It is about a 10- to 15-minute walk. Walk across the foot bridge at the Holiday Inn to the stadium parking lot and head north to along Crowchild Trail on the footpath to the intersection of 24th and Crowchild Trail. Campus is across the street. Alternatively, cross the train tracks at the Banff Trail station, turn left, and walk-up Capitol Hill Crescent NW to the intersection of 24th and Crowchild Trail. Use the crosswalk at the intersection to campus.

- Refreshments, breakfast, and lunch Coffee, tea, and water will be provided throughout the morning, along with a light continental breakfast available between 8.00am and 9.00am outside of the classrooms. Lunch can be purchased from a variety of food vendors in MacEwan hall on campus and a brief walk from the Haskayne School of Business. There is also a food vendor on the 2nd floor of Mathison Hall that is usually open until the early afternoon during the summer months.
- Required Course Materials Required materials for each course will be provided on the first day of each session unless your instructor otherwise contacts you earlier with specific directions for obtaining course materials. It is highly recommended that you bring a fully charged laptop each day with software used in the class already installed, unless your instructor has advised you otherwise. See your course descriptions at ccramsessions.com for software used in your class. Outlets for charging will be available in the classrooms.
- Internet access Wireless internet access is available in and around your classroom. Login information will be provided on the first day of class.
- Banff trip Your tuition includes an optional day trip to Banff after session 2 on July 20. The bus leaves the traffic circle at the main entrance to Mathison Hall in the morning at 9.00am and drops you off in Banff about 90 minutes later. You will have the late morning and all afternoon to explore the Banff area on your own. The return trip leaves Banff at 4.30pm and will return you to the University of Calgary by approximately 6.00pm. You must sign a waiver to get on the bus. It is your responsibility to be on time. We recommend arriving at least 10 minutes before the scheduled departure. You assume all responsibility for any losses or expenses if you miss the return bus and must find your own way back from Banff. If you would like to take a travel companion with you to Banff, the price per person is $10. This must be arranged 48 hours in advance of the trip and is on a space-available basis only. Contact the Academy staff or email ccram@ucalgary.ca.
- Guest speaker and keynote address Two research methods-related talks will be delivered on Thursday July 17, 2025, and they are free of charge to Academy participants. The morning lecture will be given by Dr. Amanda Montoya of the University of California at Los Angeles at 10.00am. The keynote address in the afternoon will be delivered by Dr. Andrea Howard of Carleton University at 3.00pm. A beer/wine/food reception will follow Dr. Howard's talk at 4.30pm. Please rsvp that you will be attending the keynote address to ccram@ucalgary.ca.

City Views

Alberta is considered by most a flat province in the Canadian plains. But Calgary is in the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, and with the Bow River running through the downtown valley, Calgary is actually quite hilly. There are many places to catch great views of the city and surrounding area. Some of the views can found at

- McHugh Bluff Park (across the Bow River from Prince's Island Park, up the stairs near the curling club).
- Toronto Crescent (approximately 2564 Toronto Crescent NW, near the university).
- West Hillhurst (the top of the leash-less dog park hill at about 19th Ave NW and 7th Ave NW).
- SAIT Polytechnic Parking lot P1 (above Riley Park in Hillhurst/Kensington).

For a view of all of Calgary and its surrounding suburbs and the Canadian Rockies, take a hike at Nose Hill Park. <https://www.calgary.ca/parks/nose-hill-park.html>

Bicycling

Calgary has numerous bicycling trails, including pathways along the Bow River near and through downtown. You can rent a bicycle from <http://joesgarage.mobi/rentals.html> on the downtown side of the river near the 10th street and CTrain bridges across from the Kensington neighbourhood.

Walking the Bow River and Prince's Island.

On any given day you will find many people walking the Bow River pathways north of downtown, on the Kensington side of the Bow River, and Prince's Island Park. Make sure you cross the Peace bridge so you can say you did.

Rafting on the Bow River

The Paddle Station at <http://paddlestation.ca> rents kayaks and rafts riverside with all the necessary equipment for rafting down the Bow River that passes through downtown Calgary.

Wander the Beltline

The beltline is a chic area to the south of downtown where you find many restaurants, bars, and shops. Walk to 17th Avenue, which is the spine of the beltline, south of downtown. You can take the CTrain to the 6th St SW or Stampede/Victoria Park station and walk the rest of the way.

Stampeders' Football

The Calgary Stampeders are in the Canadian Football League and play their games in McMahon stadium next to the University of Calgary campus. The "Stamps" often play at home once during the academy. Schedule, tickets, and information are available at <http://stampeders.com>

The Sentry Box

If you are a board game or general (nonvideo) game fan, you need to check out The Sentry Box, 1835 10 Ave SW near the Sunalta stop on the Blue Line <https://www.sentrybox.com>. It is recognized as the world's largest game store. And while you are there, pop across the street to Two House Brewing for a locally crafted beer and a good pizza.
